RE: DBPR: Construction Industry Licensing Board
Proposed Rule 61G4-18.001, F.A.C.

Dear Ms. Holladay:

I have had an opportunity to review your December 13, 2022, correspondence on the above referenced rule and respond as follows.

61G4-18.001(2)(g), F.A.C.: The criteria for this subject matter are located in Rule 61G4-12.011, F.A.C., and state “installation, replacement, disconnection or reconnection of power wiring on the load side of the dedicated existing electrical disconnecting means”. However, if requested, I will ask the Board to add a new subparagraph to 61G4-18.001(3), F.A.C. to clarify this definition and intent.

61G4-18.001(3)(g), F.A.C.: At the same meeting where the Board approved this change it also approved a change to Rule 61G4-12.011(16), F.A.C., to define and incorporate the Florida Building Code. This proposed change was noticed on December 22, 2022.

If you have any additional questions or comments, please do not hesitate to contact me.

Sincerely,

Christopher R. Dierlam
